

Dear Students:

I had a wonderful time talking to all of you about Mrs. Roosevelt. Your questions during Skype were very good and I could tell that some of you had done some good research about her before we met on Skype. I wish we had more time to talk. Thank you for the questions. I have answered them below. If you need to know anything else, please let me know. And thank you to your teacher for giving you such a great project.

did she have a baby? why did eleanor have to help franklin .D like was he sick did he brake his leg or was it becuse he was about to die?did he have a mother or a bother or a sister? Why is she famise?what Is her school kold?

Mrs. Roosevelt had six babies, but one of them died when he was very young. She had five boys and one girl. Their names were: Anna Eleanor, John, James, Elliott, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (two boys had that name. One died when he was a baby and then they named a new baby after him and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Sr.).

President Roosevelt had polio which left him unable to walk very well. Because he had to use a wheel chair, Mrs. Roosevelt had to attend many events for him. Polio is a disease that no longer exists in the United States and most of the world. It paralyzes people's legs.

President Roosevelt's father's name was James and his mother's name was Sarah Delano. His middle name came from his mother's name. He did not have any brothers or sisters.

Eleanor Roosevelt was famous because she wrote newspaper stories and was on the radio and helped run a girls' school called the Todhunter School for Girls in New York and she was first lady of New York and the United States. After her husband died, she represented the U.S. at the United Nations in New York. She did many things to be famous and what she did helped people in many ways.

When did she die? when is her birthday.

She was born October 11, 1884 in New York City. Her parents were Elliott and Anna Roosevelt. She died November 7, 1962. She was 78 years old. She is buried in Hyde Park, New York which is where her family lived before her husband became President. It is where her husband's presidential library is located and there is information about Mrs. Roosevelt
